Today's Opponents...

WELCOME to Bolton Wanderers who after missing promotion back to the First Division by a whisker last season have been among the front runners again this time.

The home form of Ian Greaves' team has been outstanding, with a high percentage of wins. Away from Burnden Park, results have not been as consistent, but Wanderers are still a very difficult team to beat. Formed in 1874, they turned professional six years later and became a limited company in 1895, the year they moved headquarters to Burnden Park.

Their honours include four FA Cup final triumphs — in 1923, 1926, 1929 and 1958 — plus the Second Division championship in 1909 and the Third Division title in 1973. In addition, Wanderers have finished third in Division One on three occasions.

Their post-war managers have included Bill Ridging, Nat Lofthouse, Jimmy McIlroy and Jimmy Armfield.

Stars of the current team include Paul Jones, Peter Reid, Neil Whatmore and Steve Taylor.

Here are some details about the Bolton first team squad:

JIM McDONAGH (goalkeeper): Yorkshire-born Jim began his professional career with his home town club Rotherham United, for whom he made more than 120 senior appearances. He joined Bolton at the start of this season on a month's loan and later signed on a permanent basis as cover for Barry Siddall. When Siddall was transferred to Sunderland, McDonagh got immediate promotion and showed himself to be a goalkeeper with agility, courage and a safe pair of hands.

JOHN RITSON (defender): One of the most experienced players at Burnden Park, John has made more than 300 first team appearances for the Wanderers. A native of Merseyside, he joined the club's playing staff from schoolboy football in Liverpool. A strong player who likes to attack down the flank.

PAUL JONES (defender): Paul was born at Ellesmere Port in Cheshire. Generally regarded as one of the best centre-halves outside the First Division, he was a member of the England squad for the recent World Cup qualifying round game against Luxembourg. Last season he was called up by Don Revie for England Under-23 team duty. A commanding player in the middle of Bolton's defence, he is noted in particular for his aerial power.

SAM ALLARDYCE (defender): Sam, who stands 6 ft. 1½ in. and is more than 13 st., is an effective middle defender for Bolton alongside the equally efficient Paul Jones. Sam comes from the Birmingham area and emerged last season as an outstanding player in the Bolton rearguard. It was his first full season in the Burnden Park team and he was voted "Player of the Year" by Wanderers' supporters.

TONY DUNNE (defender): Dublin-born Tony made well over 400 first team appearances for Manchester United before his move to Burnden Park. A Republic of Ireland international, he was a member of the Manchester United side which won the European Cup in 1968. His talent and vast experience make him a difficult left-back to get past and he is greatly admired by Wanderers' fans.

ROY GREAVES (midfield): Roy, a native of Farnworth, not far from Burnden Park, has completed ten years with Bolton and had a testimonial match last year. He has made well over 350 first team appearances for his club. A busy midfield worker with a useful goal-scoring record as well.

PETER REID (midfield): A skilful young midfield player who joined the club from junior football in Huyton, near Liverpool. Made his mark last season with a string of excellent displays during the promotion charge which so narrowly failed to win a First Division place. Peter is an intelligent player who uses the ball expertly.

RAY TRAIN (midfield): Ray is an experienced midfield campaigner, but the latest addition to Bolton's first team squad. Born in the Midlands at Nuneaton, he began his professional career with Walsall before having spells with Carlisle United and Sunderland. Ian Greaves signed him from Sunderland just before this season's transfer deadline.

WILLIE MORGAN (winger): Born at Sauchie, near Alloa, Willie has played all his League football for Lancashire clubs — Burnley, Manchester United and Bolton. He joined the Turf Moor staff in 1962 and went on to make a big name for himself with his skilful play on the wings. Played for Burnley in the 1966/67 Fairs Cup competition and then in August 1968 he was transferred to Manchester United for a big fee. Had a brief spell back at Turf Moor before signing for Bolton towards the end of last season. A Scottish international and a member of their squad in the last World Cup final tournament.

NEIL WHATMORE (striker): Neil is a strong forward with a great flair for putting the ball in the back of the net. Last season he hit 13 goals in Second Division and FA Cup matches and this time he has done even better. A lively customer for any defence to handle, he is especially dangerous in the air.

STEVE TAYLOR (striker): Steve comes from the Oldham area and got his regular first team chance early this season when Bolton were badly hit by a crop of injuries. He took the opportunity very well indeed and soon became a leading scorer. A powerful, tenacious type of player, he has a good turn of pace and is strong in the air.

ALAN WALDRON (midfield): Brother of the former Burnley centre-half, Colin Waldron. Alan, a speedy, skilful player is a regular member of the Burnden first team squad. Spent last summer in the United States, playing for Chicago Stings.

MIKE WALSH (defender): Mike is a native of Manchester. He joined the Wanderers' staff straight from schoolboy football and has proved himself at full-back and in midfield. He has been an effective deputy for Tony Dunne on several occasions this season.

On the ball with the manager

A busy time, but we've still got to be at our best

EASTER is always an important time for Football League clubs, particularly those near the top and the bottom of the four divisions and that's the way it has proved again.

We go into this evening's top attraction all-Lancashire meeting with neighbours Bolton Wanderers after a hectic spell of matches over the holidays, yet the players are fully aware of the importance of being at their best against one of the best teams in Division Two.

It's my pleasure to welcome the Bolton Chairman, board of directors, manager Ian Greaves and all officials, players and supporters from Burnden Park, where this has once again been an eventful season.

FAMOUS

We look forward to another exciting, entertaining and absorbing game in line with so many past matches between the two famous clubs.

We were perhaps just a little bit unfortunate not to take a point from the first meeting this season at Bolton in November, but that's the way it goes in this game and it is entirely up to ourselves to make amends this time. It will not be anything like easy.

QUICKLY

I would like to welcome especially our former player Willie Morgan who is with his third Lancashire club after making his name firstly with Burnley in the middle 60s and then with Manchester United. Time has passed quickly since Willie came to us as a junior from his native Sauchie, near Alloa, in Scotland, but he has proved himself a player of skill time and time again against the very best of defenders and it will be good to see him again this evening.

IMPORTANT

Now a word about one of our most important staff members. I refer to physiotherapist Jimmy Holland who rightly received words of commendation at the recently highly successful sportsmen's dinner in aid of the Frank Casper testimonial fund. Frank pointed out that Jimmy had done so much for him during the time he was dogged by knee injuries and the tribute in front of a distinguished audience was well merited. For medics such as Jimmy, Easter is a peak time but he does a wonderful job for this club and his work is greatly appreciated, believe me.

MEMORABLE

The sportsmen's dinner was a memorable evening highlighted by talks from such as Brian Clough, the Nottingham Forest manager, and former Test cricketers Freddie Trueman and Neil Hawke. A good time was had by all and it was literally a laugh a minute. Frank is doing a good job for the club as reserve team coach following his enforced retirement as a player and his excellent work is showing up in results on match days with a particularly young Central League team.

REMARKABLE

Coming up shortly at Turf Moor will be the first leg of our Lancashire Football Association Youth Cup competition semi-final against Oldham Athletic. Oldham had a remarkable victory over Manchester United at Old Trafford to reach the last four. They let go a three-goal lead and then won with virtually the last kick of the match, so it's obviously going to be hard against them for our boys.

APPRENTICE

David Tait, a 16-year-old defender from Malton, Yorkshire, has joined our playing staff as an apprentice professional and we wish him every success in his career.

Spotlight

THIS is the page on which each match day we meet one of the Burnley players and talk to him about his career and the game in general. Tonight we meet 18-year-old former Wigan Schoolboys skipper Neil Bailey.

Firstly, Neil, can you tell us about your days as a schoolboy footballer?

Well my home is at Platt Bridge, near Wigan, and I attended Hindley and Abram Grammar School. I played for the school team, Wigan Boys and Lancashire Under-15s. I was captain of the county team which won the Northern Counties championship three years ago, then had England trials and finally played for the Greater Manchester Under-19 team. I always wanted to be a footballer and watching Manchester United as a schoolboy made me keener than ever. But I don't support them now!

How long have you been a Burnley player?

Just over 18 months. I signed as an apprentice professional when I left school at 16 and I became a full-time professional last July.

What are the differences between playing in the highest class of schoolboy football and turning out in the Central League?

There are many differences. It's a lot harder in the Central League than it looks from the stand. One difference is that in schoolboy football you can make a mistake and it's not really spotted. Make an error in the Central League and it can be severely punished, sometimes by the opposition scoring a goal!

How do you account for the sudden good run of results by the reserve team, of which you have been a regular member?

It's a young side, and that means maximum running. Hard work and unselfish team play have been major ingredients, too. Our draw at Liverpool against the Central League leaders was a good result, but the win over Sheffield United at Bramall Lane was an even better performance because for almost half the match we were down to ten men due to injuries to Julian Barnett and Jim Thomson. We are better organised at the moment than we have been and we talk a lot in training about good points and bad ones. The effort put in has shown in results and it must be an encouraging thing for the club generally when the reserves are doing well with such a youthful side. Frank Casper has taught us a lot.

Who do you most admire in the game?

Denis Law, Bobby Charlton and George Best used to be my favourites. Now it's such as Trevor Francis and Tony Currie. At Burnley, I admire the ability of Keith Newton. The way he can time and disguise a pass, for instance.

What are your interests away from football?

I am studying Government at technical college. I read a lot to help my studies and I also like novels. Listening to records is another hobby. But football is my first love and my dad has been my inspiration from the start. If I ever achieve anything in this game it will be due in a large amount to his terrific encouragement and guidance.

The biggest operation of them all — by John Motson

SHOULD you be walking through the sparsely-populated London streets at about half past three on Cup Final day you might well spot a BBC Outside Broadcast unit, complete with 20 men, sitting quietly in a side road listening to the commentary from Wembley.

Soccer

Surely, you might think, they've got it wrong. They should be a few miles north covering the big match at the Empire Stadium. In fact, the BBC crew is standing by to cover the winners' banquet later that evening at a plush London hotel. Which hotel depends on the result. Hence their strange, silent rôle until the final whistle blows and they go into action.

Scene

The story illustrates the vast and detailed planning behind the coverage of the FA Cup Final — the BBC's biggest football operation of the season. If Producer Alec Weeks just had the match to worry about his job would be relatively straightforward. As it is, there are a thousand and one possibilities to cater for between 11 a.m., when BBC "Grandstand" coverage starts, and 11 p.m., when "Match of the Day" from the winners' hotel finishes.

"Planning starts in principle two days after the previous year's final", says Weeks. "That's when we start to talk about how we can improve or change our coverage. We begin to shape the programme and organise our technical facilities from January onwards."

Those technical facilities take the breath away. There are 11 cameras in use at Wembley — compared to five for a normal League match — and 24 miles of cable have to be laid. This is a three-day job for the riggers, who move into Wembley on the Monday before the match.

Altogether a total of 120 people are involved at the Stadium on Cup Final day. About 85 BBC personnel, together with the 35 overseas commentators who put their own words on Alec Weeks' pictures as they are beamed all over the world.

Last year the Final was even beamed by satellite to Hong Kong, Australia and New Zealand. In addition to the BBC's anticipated 19 million viewers in Britain, a further 250 million people overseas will see the match in either live or recorded form.

"This year at least 30 countries outside the British Isles will take the Cup Final", says Weeks. He allocates a separate cubicle to each foreign commentator so they are all working in adjacent boxes on the wide, impressive television gantry on the south side of the Stadium.

His team is responsible for the comfort and convenience of all those working at Wembley. Food, washing facilities and even toilet rolls all have to be organised from Alec Weeks' office. "Every piece of equipment, from the smallest lapel microphone to a 500 lb. camera, has to be itemised on our planning sheet. Our main planning meeting in March started at 10 a.m. and finished at 4-30 p.m."

Weeks showed me a pile of correspondence two and a half inches deep. Last year it included a letter to Buckingham Palace to obtain permission for the cameras to capture the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh sitting in the Royal Box, and letters to the band playing at Wembley. Their music will be heard in the pre-match build up.

Camera crews have to be sent to the two team hotels for live interviews on the morning of the match, while the camera sited on the roof of a nearby hotel, to show the Wembley scene from on high, is dismantled during the match. It is then taken to a small curtained room near the dressing rooms. Here the players are interviewed after the match.

The camera crew to cover this year's Final itself was selected in February. They are given a high quota of top matches between then and the end of the season. The cameramen do their own intense homework on players, just like the match commentator.

Weeks gives each cameraman photographs of every player, which they study in the days leading up to the Final. They also go to the respective training headquarters to watch the players closely in action.

The sound engineers need to know where their 27 microphones are going to pick up the best "effects". Which players shout loudest? Are the lines taking the overseas commentaries to their destination going to work properly?

The close liaison with Wembley Stadium officials is vital. Passes have to be carefully issued and I have in my scrapbook at home some much-treasured passports to the dressing room area and pitch for the past five Cup Finals.

Most of all it is a competitive operation. Although the days of scuffles on the pitch between BBC and ITV are thankfully gone, and co-operation between the two is now good, both channels are out to capture the bigger share of the estimated 25 million total audience.

When Alec Weeks leads his team into the Stadium on 21st May he will feel rather like the Manager of one of the competing sides. "We have planned everything down to the minutest detail", says Weeks. "Now our aim is to win."

who played . . . where . . . when . . .

We apologise to our supporters for not being able to report who played where and when over our Easter games, as this programme was prepared prior to the matches being played.

An interesting feature about our Central League side is that the average age of this team is only 18 years, and their recent form suggests that these young players are certainly going to develop into first class players in the near future.

TONIGHT'S MAN-IN-CHARGE

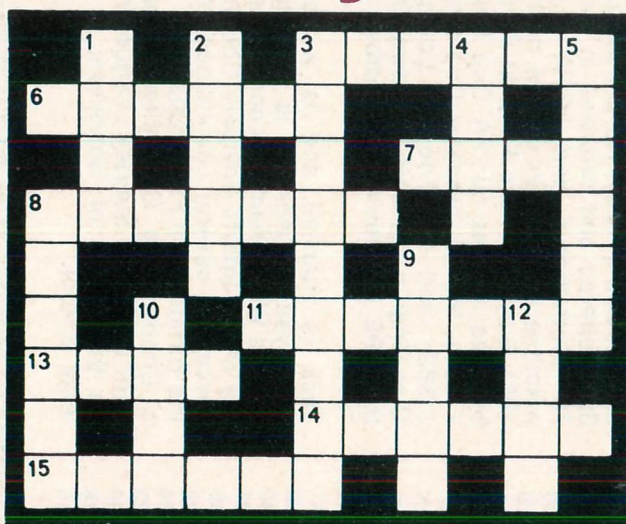

JACK TAYLOR, O.B.E.
(Wolverhampton)

Commenced refereeing in 1948 in local leagues and graduated via the Birmingham League to the Football League — now serving his 22nd year. In addition, he has been on the UEFA and FIFA Referees' Panel for many years. He refereed the 1974 World Cup Final — Holland v West Germany — and was on the World Cup panel in England (1966) and Mexico (1970). He has visited 38 countries and refereed in over 70 international and UEFA Cup matches and was in charge of the 1971 European Cup Final at Wembley, as well as our FA Cup Final (1966), the FA Amateur Cup Final (1962) and the Football League Cup Final in 1976. He was awarded the OBE for services to football in 1975.

Jack is married and is a self-employed butcher. He is a magistrate in Wolverhampton and a member of the Sports Advisory Council. Serves on several committees and the Birmingham FA. Is Chairman of a Charity Cup Committee, President of a local Sunday League and on the Board of Governors of a local school.

Going back over the years..

by the Rev. David Wiseman, author of "Up the Clarets!" and "Vintage Clarets"

75 YEARS AGO TODAY

Only 600 were at Turf Moor for the visit of Preston North End. The Burnley team was: Sugden; Ross and Lockhart; Barron, Taylor and Dixon; Morrison, Bruton, Hogan, Davidson and Birdall. The result matched the crowd, as Burnley went down 3-1 at home. Jimmy Hogan scored the solitary Burnley goal.

It was the day of the crowd disaster during the International between England and Scotland at Glasgow. Twenty people died and over 200 were injured.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

Burnley were gradually losing touch with the league leaders. Arsenal beat them 6-2 and now the club were four points behind Newcastle. In that game Joe Devine was injured, so a new centre-forward was tried the following week against Huddersfield. The player was Burley and he proved not to be a success. The forward line read: Bruton, Cross, Burley, Beel and Page. Huddersfield included the old Burnley hero Bob Kelly and thanks mainly to him Huddersfield ran out 2-0 winners. Burnley were now six points behind Newcastle and fading fast!

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

53,000 people were present at Ewood Park for the great sixth-round clash between Blackburn and Burnley in 1952. Jackie Chew scored after 39 minutes but Albert Nightingale equalised for the Rovers right on half time. In the second half, amateur Bill Holmes and Glover scored further goals to give the Rovers a deserved 3-1 victory.

The Burnley team that sad day read: Strong; Aird, Mather; Adamson, Cummings and Attwell; Chew, Morris, Holden, Shannon and Elliott. Afterwards, Jimmy Strong, who had had a bad spell, was dropped after this game and he joined Jimmy McIlroy, Arthur Woodruff, Roy Stephenson and Brian Pilkington in the reserve team.

Can you write a limerick ?

Send your entry to "Clarrie Blue Limerick", Burnley Football Club, Turf Moor, Burnley, BB10 4BX. It could win you a stand ticket in the Bob Lord Stand for a game at Turf Moor.

Tonight's winning limerick has been sent in by Mrs. E. Pollard of 17 Derek Road, Whittle-le-Woods, near Chorley.

RAISE YOUR VOICES

Whether you support from ground or stand,
Claret fans are the best in the land,

So let's all get behind our team,
raise your voices, shout and scream;

Let's hear it now above the throng,
the lads will soon be back on song.

Then in a few weeks we can shout, that's what teamwork's all about.

A complimentary stand ticket for tonight's match has been sent to Mrs. Pollard for her winning entry.
